New Shopping Cart Ordinance Effective October 10

A new shopping cart ordinance will take effect on October 10. Shopping carts left off premises have become a growing issue across the city, and this ordinance aims to enhance public health, safety and overall community well-being by ensuring carts stay where they belong.

Key points to know:

- It is unlawful to remove a marked cart from a premises or possess one without the owner's written consent.
- Cart owners must prevent carts from being abandoned on private property.
- Signs are required on carts and premises, reminding people to keep

- carts onsite.
- Cart owners must have a containment plan or a cart retrieval service in place.

Know Before You Go: Colorado River

Rivergoers, please be aware of the freshwater parasite, Heterobilharzia americana, that has been found in the Colorado River, and can cause canine schistosomiasis. While this may sound concerning, please don't worry—there have only been 11 confirmed cases in Southern California between October 2018 and January 2023.

If you're visiting the river, take precautions to keep your pets safe. Watch for signs

Building Safety Tips: Business Signs and Banner Permits

Need a permit for your business sign or banner? Here are a few key things to keep in mind:

- Banners are allowed with a sign permit for new businesses or location changes within 6 months of opening, but they must meet specific requirements and cannot be displayed for more than 30 days.
- Banners are not for permanent signage.
- Temporary signs, such as campaign or garage sale signs, may also require permits, so please check the municipal code.

If you're installing or updating business signage (painted, attached, or pole signs), approvals from the Planning Department and permits may be required.

Please note: All signs must be on your property and cannot be placed in the City's right of way (from the sidewalk to the street). Any signs in violation will be removed.

For more information, visit the Development Services Department at 235 North Broadway or call (760) 922-6130.
